DNA Differences in Health

MAXLIVING WORKSHOP

Monday, May 20, 2019
06:15 PM , At Vibrant Life Center
6070 50th St N
Oakdale, MN 55128

Women and men are not created equal when it comes to health. Not only are they prone to different health issues, but the symptoms and diagnoses of diseases vary in women and men, requiring different workups, tests, and treatments. As a result, women and men have different nutritional requirements and actions to take to prevent disease and maintain a healthy lifestyle.

AT THIS WORKSHOP YOU WILL:

- Discover how women and men differ in risks for specific hormone issues, obesity, heart conditions, and mental health problems.
- Identify the different symptoms of diseases that may be expressed in women and men.
- Learn the differences between women and men's nutritional requirements.
